Long awaited extended care facility opened

Dark clouds and sprinkles of rain Friday afternoon were overcome by the glowing faces of the Elk Point Hospital's Board, Administration and staff, as they participated in the official opening of the long awaited Parkview Extended Care wing, recently completed at the north side of the hospital.

Board Vice-Chairman Marvin Bjornstad related the lengthy history of the project to the large assembly of guests who ignored the weather as they applauded the opening.

It was "a history of politics, beaurocracy and long waits," Bjornstad said, which began immediately after the opening of the main hospital facility in 1976. A group whose goal was to have a nursing home in Elk Point was started that fall, but met with endless bureaucracy and eventually turned over their hopes to the Hospital Board. In September, 1980, the first application for a 45 bed nursing home wing, with an estimated price of $1.8 million, was submitted. Planners came to visit the hospital in 1981, and the project was given an official application number in 1982. The wheels of government began their slow turn, and then-MLA John Drobot announced approval of the (by that time) $2.6 million project in the course of his re-election campaign. This amount was soon determined to be $1.5 million short for the facility the Board wanted, and in October 1987, then-Minister of Health Marvin Moore came to talk to the board. "He toured the site, and told us 'no,'" Bjornstad said, but later wrote to say he was going to Cabinet to seek their approval, which was

Megabucks bingo cancelled

The Elk Point Agricultural Society's $30,000 Megabucks Bingo which was scheduled for May 29 was cancelled due to a poor turnout, according to Ag Society President Glenn Harms.

"Even though the Society is disappointed with the results, we are currently analyzing the bingo format to try to develop a bingo that will appeal to a wider range of players," Harms said.

Harms added that although there were no financial losses suffered with the actual bingo, the Society is out its advertising, equipment and rental costs.

The Society will now be busy preparing for the highly successful Canada Day festivities in Elk Point.

Plans underway for busy Seniors Week

Elk Point is ready for Seniors Week, June 5 to 11, with a number of activities added to the already busy schedule most local seniors thrive upon.

Heritage Lodge will start the week off by hosting an Art and Craft exhibit from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, June 5, with items for display only. Tours of the lodge will also be available at that time.

Sunday evening will feature a community worship service at the Seniors Recreation Centre, with representatives of several local congregations participating with readings and special music. Featured speaker will be Rev. John McGregor. The service starts at 7 p.m., and will be followed by coffee, courtesy of the Pioneer Circle.

Elk Point Hospital's long term care patients will enjoy a variety of activities during the week, starting with a parade of decorated wheelchairs from the hospital to the downtown area on Monday, June 6. Wednesday, June 8, hospital staff will join the patients in a 10:30 a.m. Watermelon Seed Spitting Contest, which is sure to be entertaining, as will the Water Balloon Toss scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday, June 10.

ALL SET TO SHINE - Bob Lee, whose glittering yellow 1929 DeSoto Roadster recently tied for Best of Show at the prestigious Swan City Car Club Show in Grande Prairie, is proud to be one of the car enthusiasts whose vehicles will be on display at this Saturday's Elk Point Auto Club Show and Shine, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the A. G. Ross Arena. Other exhibitors will not have to compete with Lee for the prizes, however - his vehicle is "just for show" this time around. See story on Page 7.

FAST ENOUGH TO WIN - Just how fast is Fast Company? Fast enough to win the A Side of Elk Point and District Lions Club's Jan Frisby Memorial Slowpitch Tournament, for sure. Myrna Loughran accepts the trophy from Lyle Frisby, sister of the late Jan Frisby, while Keith Campbell accepts the prize money from Dan Povaschuk of the Lions Club. Fast Company defeated St. Paul Silver Bullets in their final game. A total of 18 teams took part in the tourney, from which proceeds go to the Canadian Cancer Society in memory of Jan Frisby. Miss Frisby's mother, Jeannette Frisby, threw the ceremonial first ball to open the tournament on Saturday, following a memorial prayer.

Fast Company takes the "A" side

...AND MORE ELK POINT WINNERS - The Tequila Slammers won the C Side of the Jan Frisby Memorial Tournament, defeating a St. Paul team ambiguously named "Whatever" in the final game. Sorry, the photos of Edmonton Lightning, who defeated Elk Point Hooters to win the B Side, did not turn out. Thanks to Dan Povaschuk for providing the Review with photos and details on the tournament.

Seniors Week a busy one

Centre will be the site of Wednesday's Pancake and Sausage Luncheon, at which the seniors will host the Grade 6 students from Elk Point Elementary School as a unique way of marking the passage of these students to Junior High School.

In recognition of the numerous activities the community's seniors are already involved in, no events have been planned for June 7, 9 and 11.

Facts about Alberta seniors

The proportion of people aged 65 and over in Alberta is increasing rapidly, as it is across Canada and in much of the industrialized world.

The baby boom that began in 1946 will become a seniors boom beginning in 2011. From 1986 to 2016 the proportion of seniors in Alberta is expected to grow from 8.1 percent to 13.5 percent and their numbers to increase by 149 percent.

Generally, the youngest areas in Alberta are the north and the oldest in the south (except Calgary). The highest concentration of people 65 and over live in the towns and cities (but not the farms) of southern and east central Alberta. Only 5 percent of Alberta's seniors live in rural farm settings.

Fort McMurray is the youngest city in Alberta with only 0.8 percent seniors. Medicine Hat has one of the highest proportions of seniors in Alberta with 14.7 percent of the total population. This means that Medicine Hat, in 1990, had a higher proportion of seniors than Alberta, as a whole will have in the year 2016.

For more information on "Seniors In Alberta," contact the Wainwright Regional Office at 842-7581.

According to the 1991 Census there were approximately 230,550 people age 65 and over in Alberta, 9 percent of the total population of the province.

Alberta has the smallest percentage of seniors in its population of all the provinces; only the Northwest Territories and the Yukon have smaller percentages of seniors.

Numbers of seniors will more than double within the next 25 years, and their percentage in the total population will increase to between 13 and 14 percent.

LIVING ARRANGEMENTS

The majority of seniors live in homes that they own, and most of the remainder are renting.

Only 9.3 percent of the seniors are living in lodges and long term care centres.

The percentage of seniors living in lodges and long term care centres is dropping, probably due to the fact that we now have the Home Care / Community Long Term Care Program and also subsidi-dized seniors' apartments.

The majority of seniors live in a family situation, most with a spouse, and very few seniors live with other relatives.

HEALTH

It is believed that future generations of seniors will be healthier.

INCOME

As of December 31, 1992, 39.5 percent of Alberta's seniors had low enough incomes that they were receiving income supplementation from the federal and provincial governments.

INTERAGENCY

Elk Point and District Interagency was formed to enable human services representatives and agencies to meet and work together for the benefit of our community. We inform each other about upcoming projects and activities. We also try to combine our activities so that community needs are met in a more complete way. If you would like more information or are interested in participating contact Jim MacLellan at 724-4126 or 724-4194. Our next meeting is a "potluck" and will be held on Tuesday, June 7 at 11:00 a.m. at the Seniors Centre.

TEEN DATING: HEALTHY AND ABUSIVE RELATIONSHIPS - WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE?

Did You Know?

One in 10 high school students has experienced emotional, sexual or physical violence in a dating relationship.

Most battered women were abused by their partners before they were married.

Why Does Dating Violence Continue To Happen?

"I didn't know it was wrong."

"I thought the jealousy meant he really loved and cared about me."

"He told me I deserved it, maybe he was right."

"I saw the same thing at home; I thought it was okay."

"I thought it was okay to hit my girlfriend... I had to keep her in line."

"So what's the big deal? I hit her... nothing is going to happen."

Why Do Teens Stay In Abusive Relationships?

"I thought I could change him with my love and understanding."

"He was SO sorry."

"I can't live without him."

"I thought that this was just how relationships are."

"I was scared to break it off."

"I was embarrassed to talk about it."

"I didn't want to be without a boyfriend."

"I didn't know what to do."

What You Can Do!

If you are being abused, deal with the problem immediately by...

- talking to someone you can trust
- telling your date you are going to leave unless he / she gets help

- breaking off the relationship if your date continues to be abusive

- doing what you need to, to be safe

If your friend is being abused...

- offer support and listen

- tell your friend that she / he does not deserve the abuse

- offer to go with your friend to get help

- be patient; it can take time to make changes

If you are abusing...

- don't wait until you hurt someone you love

- find a counsellor to talk with who can help you with the problem

- remember abuse is a learned behavior and you can change it

If your friend is abusing...

- tell your friend his / her behavior is wrong

- offer to go with your friend to a counsellor who can help with the problem.

SPRUCING UP THE COMMUNITY - Elk Point Lioness Club members and their little helpers helped with Elk Point's Spruce Up Campaign by adopting the flowerbed at the northwest corner of the Elk Point Co-op store. Thanks, ladies, for helping to make our community a prettier place to live and visit.

KINDNESS APPRECIATED - Elk Point and District Lions Club was somewhat over-prepared with food for the participants of their Snowmobile Rally earlier this year. Lions spokesman Ken Astill said the Empress Family Restaurant kindly "ate the bill" and kept the Lions from losing money on the rally. Astill presented a plaque of appreciation for the Empress to Dawn Sommerville at last week's Lions meeting.

Thanks for the pledges

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Children's Health Foundation of Northern Alberta (CHFNA), we wish to thank all businesses and individuals, far and near, for their pledges to our walk-a-thon held on May 19, 1994. Donations came to an approximate amount of $2050 and will certainly be appreciated by the CHFNA. We look forward to your support next year.

Sincerely,
Elk Point

Tidbits

Good character is more to be praised than outstanding talent. Most talents are, to some extent, a gift. Good character, by contrast, is not given to us. We have to build it piece by piece - by thought, choice, courage, and determination.

WELCOME TO THE CHAMBER - Elk Point Chamber of Commerce President Victor Stepa presented new business owner Barb Croteau with a complimentary first year membership on the occasion of the grand opening of "In Days Of Olde" last weekend.

The family forum

Jim MacLellan

"Researchers Tuckmann and Lorge asked a sample of Americans how they identified themselves. Of those over 80, 53 percent admitted they were old; 36 percent reported that they considered themselves middle aged, and 11 percent, young. Nearly half, that is, thought of themselves as either young or middle aged." (Tim Stafford, As Our Years Increase, Page 15).

At the turn of the century, 1 in 25 ever hoped to reach age 65. Now, with the impact of science and other factors, a majority of people who will reach 65 will also reach 85!

Seniors often speak of one of four great concerns: "May I not be a burden;" "Save me from the nursing home;" "Help me keep my faculties;" and "Take me quickly."

The fact of the matter, in spite of these tremendous issues, many seniors agree that the years between 65 and 90 can be the most dynamic period in life. Many seniors I notice in our community are saying, "We want to convey a better image of old age."

The more active the senior, the happier he or she seems to be. We congratulate the seniors who:

- Are busy in positive leisure activities;
- Are helpful to their children and grandchildren;
- Exhibit great friendliness and friendships; and
- Often work part time or serve the community as volunteers.

The Radio Bible Class has produced a booklet, Finishing Well. In it they suggest four key factors to enjoyment of retirement. They are:

1. Have a meaningful spiritual life.
2. Become involved in enjoyable activities.
3. Be helpful. Reach out to others.
4. Keep an active mind.

Many of you are doing this. Keep on keeping on!

The makings of a track dynasty

To say the Elk Point Elementary School track team has a bit of a dynasty would be a bit of an understatement. These guys make the Montreal Canadiens dynasty look like the California Golden Seals. Elk Point won their 16th consecutive Elementary track and field County Cup Wednesday at Ashmont School. F. G. Miller ran away with the banner with 334 points. Ecole Mallaig School was second with 198 points, Ashmont third with 187 and Saddle Lake finished fourth with 43.

Elk Point athletes won six of the eight top individual awards.

They were: Megan Proskiw, F Girls (six and seven year olds); Jason Kalynchuk, F Boys; Matt Buksa, E Boys (eight and nine year olds); Cristin Oszust, D girls (10 and 11 year olds); Darcy Stafford, D Boys; Greg Zarowny, C Boys, (12 and over) subsequently granted.

The other top individual award winners were: Courtney Ladoucer, Ashmont, C Girls and Emilie Brousseau, Mallaig, E Girls.

With the design stage still not underway in the summer of 1988, the Board "got tired of waiting" and hired architect Jack Jamieson. Approval was then granted to go to the 'block schematics' step, which was the determination of what the wing would look like. Numerous problems with details delayed the completion of the design until December 1991, in the midst of an inopportune freeze on government spending. Nonetheless, approval was given to go to the final design stage, "with Mr. Drobot again instrumental and very much appreciated," Bjornstad said.

The project went to tender in December 1992, with Aman Building Corporation named as general contractor in January 1993. In April of last year, construction finally got underway on both the new wing and a long list of renovations to the main hospital building.

Just over a year later, Bjornstad and the board were "glad to see this day arrive in the face of rumors that the wing would never open." The wing is now ready for occupancy, and all thirty beds will be filled almost immediately, when they start moving patients in during mid June.

Bjornstad thanked the staff for attending "17 years of meetings," and the residents of the area for their patience and support. "It will be a great place to work and to live," he concluded, inviting all present to join the tours which followed the ceremonies.

Board Chairman John Mohyluk, who has been part of the board for 25 years, agreed that "it took a long time to get where we are today." He acknowledged the contribution of John Drobot, who was "instrumental in getting the project back on stream... times too numerous to mention." He also thanked former board members Tom Belshem, John Williams and Mike Kadutski for their efforts, as well as former administrator Walter Saranchuk, who prepared the original project request. Mohyluk thanked current Administrator Clem Johnson for "eight years of hard work, travel, endless meetings... perseverance and patience. He maintained his focus... even in the face of controversy and criticism."

Former MLA John Drobot looked back at "a lot of trials and tribulations" which were endured in the process. "This facility was needed. We do have to care for our long term patients." As a man who didn't get married until he was 40, he professed to "know that anything worth having was worth waiting for. This is a great thing for the community, and the community richly deserves it."

Mayor Ed Buck called it "a very exciting day for the community. A lot of people worked a long time to get this." He thanked the Alberta government for making the funding available, and boards past and present for their efforts. Regarding John Drobot, he harked back to a list of accomplishments in the community which he had presented at Drobot's retirement roast, and which "went on and on. Our very great thanks." Buck feels that Elk Point has been a leader in health care since the days of Doctors Miller, Ross and Weigerinck, and "this carries on that tradition."

A tradition of health care leadership ...

Architect Jack Jamieson took the opportunity to thank all involved in the complex project, which has "transformed dreams and ideals into a functional unit. This project truly reflects the needs of the users, and all involved worked hard to this end." He cited Clem Johnson's tireless attention to details, the hospital staff persevering as they cooked meals in a trailer at minus thirty degrees, and all the rest whose cooperation, assistance and hospitality were greatly appreciated. Jamieson thanked Alberta Health and Alberta Public Works for their endorsement of the project, and Aman Building Corporation and the subtrades, who were "a pleasure to work with. They can be proud of their efforts. It was also a pleasure to work with your Hospital Board."

Mr. F. Lalji spoke on behalf of Aman Building Corporation, and noted that contractors are not trained in public speaking because "they do their talking with their tools." He noted that "we put together what you see here with a lot of help from sub contractors," and thanked the board, administration and staff "who showed a lot of patience during the trying time of construction. Construction is a team effort," he said, congratulating everyone from architects to subcontractors on "a magnificent building."

Wayne Flewelling represented the Alberta Healthcare Association at the opening. That association is marking its 75th anniversary, and Flewelling said Elk Point had been a member for 60 of those years. "Elk Point's board has always had a commitment to quality care, and it is evident that this commitment has continued. I am certain that this facility will continue to offer the quality care which has become a trademark of this community."

Two representatives of the Provincial Government were on hand. MLA Ed Stelmach, Vegreville - Viking, brought greetings on behalf of Minister of Health Shirley McClellan, who was unable to attend due to out-of-province commitments. She sent congratulations to the board, staff and volunteers "whose efforts have resulted in a welcome complement... offering those requiring nursing home care, a comfortable, homelike environment in their own community. It is a tribute to Elk Point's community spirit." Stelmach added his own appreciation for the time and effort spent by all involved in creating the facility. "One goal [of the Provincial Government] is to make health care system more sensitive to the needs of Albertans," he noted, and this facility will help to fill those needs.

St. Paul - LacLaBiche MLA Paul Langevin brought greetings and congratulations from the Legislature, and gave special thanks to John Drobot for his tireless work toward the project. "It's more than brick and mortar... it's the people behind it. Even though it was built by the Province, this facility is yours," he stated, presenting a plaque dedicating the Parkview Extended Care facility to the community.

Administrator Clem Johnson, who served as the afternoon's MC, recognized special guests in the audience, including Laurel Hoke from Alberta Health, and John Bennett and Charley Claver from Alberta Public Works. In closing, he thanked his staff for their diligence throughout the project and in preparing for the opening.

Myrnam Hospital Board Chairman Ed Wowk presented a plaque congratulating his Elk Point counterparts on the new facility, while hospital boards from Vilna, St. Paul, Viking and Bonnyville sent floral tributes. Other flowery congratulations were received from the Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary, the architectural firm and the Toronto Dominion Bank.

With the ribbon cut by John

Drobot, the huge crowd filed in through the automatically opening doors to view the handsome new facility, with its spacious accommodation, gracefully curved ceilings and pleasant common areas.

SNIP SHOT - A snip of the wide turquoise ribbon surrounding the curved entranceway officially opened the Parkview Extended Care Wing last Friday. Former MLA John Drobot is flanked by MLA Ed Stelmach, MLA Paul Langevin, Hospital Board Chairman John Mohyluk, Board member John Wozniak Jr. and Mayor Ed Buck as he does the honors.

IT'S YOURS, ELK POINT - MLA Paul Langevin presents the Town of Elk Point's Hospital Board representative Orest Capjack with a plaque dedicating the newly opened facility to the community.

Congratulations!

Car enthusiasts win in Swan City

A recent visit to the Swan City Car Club's prestigious show in Grande Prairie was an exciting one for two Elk Point auto enthusiasts. Bob Lee and Ken Astill both returned with trophies from their long trip to the northwest part of the province. Astill won a trophy for Best Independently Manufactured Vehicle for his Bricklin.

Lee's bright yellow 1929 DeSoto Roadster tied a dead heat for the best entry overall in the show. The DeSoto was tied with a showroom-perfect 1955 Ford Crown Victoria, so close in points that even two sets of judges came up with identical marks.

The DeSoto, an Espanol K Series, was one of the first issues of DeSotos made from a design patented in early 1928. Lee's vehicle bears the serial number 712, and was produced in September 1928 in Windsor, Ontario. The proud present owner has spent "five years of restoration and seven years of procrastination" on the vehicle to get it to its present perfection.

The DeSoto, which won Best of Show in Elk Point Auto Club's 1993 Show and Shine, will be on display again this year, but will not be competing for trophies, as a previous winner. It will be there "strictly for the viewers' pleasure," Lee says.

SINGING IN THE RAIN - Elk Point Community Choir ignored the weather as they led the singing of O Canada to start off the Official Opening Ceremonies. Pastor Jim MacLellan offered the Invocation.

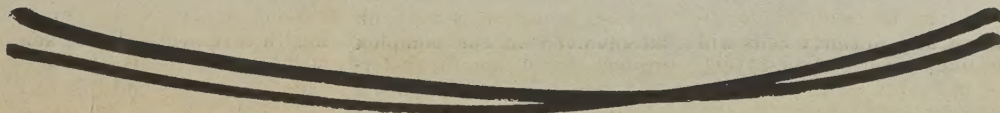

ADMINISTRATOR CUTS CELEBRATORY CAKE - Hospital Administrator Clem Johnson, who received many commendations for his devotion to the Extended Care Wing project, cuts a giant cake marking the Grand Opening of the long awaited facility.

Heads UP.

There's a fine line between safe and sorry.

Electricity is a fact of life. In fact, it's so much a part of everyday life that people forget the potential for accidents. Any contact with overhead power lines or exposed wires can cause serious injury. And underground power lines are equally dangerous to anyone who digs without locating them. Understanding how electricity works can keep you, and those close to you, safe. When it comes to electricity, what you don't know can hurt you. For more information on electrical safety, call your local Alberta Power office.

NPCA season underway

The Northern Professional Chuckwagon Association held their first race meets of the season this past weekend in Vermilion, AB and Cote Reserve, SK. Northeast Alberta drivers took the top three spots in Vermilion's 29-wagon show, with Bonnyville teamster Ray Croteau placing first with a total time of 2:03.91 for two days of running. Buddy Bensmiller of Dewberry was second with 2:05.20, just .03 of a second ahead of Clandonald's Stan Robertson with 2:05.23. Results from Cote were not in at press time.

Sixteen more shows are scheduled for the balance of the season, leading up to the Finals in Lloydminster, August 18 to 21.

Lloydminster was selected as the site for the 1994 finals based on the tremendous success of the 1993 Finale and the exceptional working relationship the NPCA has developed with the Lloydminster Exhibition Association.

Vermilion and Cote Reserve are two of the five new shows which are slated for this season, with the others to be held on the James Smith Reserve near Beatty, SK, Unity, SK and Loon Lake, SK.

The Association currently has 139 members with 36 drivers and 19 outriders included in this number. Three of the drivers are newcomers to the sport and will vie for the Rookie of the Year award.

Elk Point 4-H multi-club

We held our Mini Achievement Day on April 24 at the Fairgrounds Arena, Elk Point. Seven members brought their steers to prepare them for our upcoming Achievement Day on June 4. Chris Havener showed the members how to make rope halters and gave some grooming tips. Tim and Robyn gave us a demonstration on what not to do in the arena, if you want to win showmanship.

On May 7, the club cleaned 10 km of Highway 646. We had lunch at Danyluks and then went swimming in St. Paul. We enjoyed a fairly rowdy game of water soccer, with Albert Naber and Elaine Babenek as goaltenders. After pizza and snacks at Legasse Park, we each had a treat at the Dairy Queen.

On May 18, we held a beef meeting at Banana Hill Farm. We sanded and varnished cloverleaf signs for our new members. We discussed Achievement Day plans and our year-end party, to be held at the end of June at Stoney Lake.

Please feel free to come and watch our Achievement Day on June 4 at the Elk Point Fairgrounds Arena. The Grooming competition will start at 12:00 noon and the conformation class at 2:00 p.m. The St. Paul District Steer Show and Sale is on Monday, June 6, with the Parade of Champions at 6:00 p.m. Come and buy some prime Alberta Beef in time for the barbecue season.

Tales of the hunt - for treasure, sharks and more

Michele Duczek
Librarian

Alert readers may have noticed a small error in last week's column. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was born 135 years ago, not 145. What can I say... my major was history, not math.

I spent a large part of the long weekend reading and one of the books I read is the latest installment in Clive Cussler's Dirk Pitt series. This one is called Inca Gold and once again Dirk and his good friend Al are drawn into a hunt for treasure, complete with daring rescues, murderous villains and several brushes with death. As in previous novels, water plays a key role, this time an underwater river in the Mexican desert. The treasure is a cache of Incan loot valued at over a billion dollars. You can also check out other books in the series.

NEW IN FICTION

White Shark by Peter Benchley is another tale of terror from the deep. When bodies begin washing ashore it looks like the killer resembles a white shark but it is more dangerous and more malevolent than any ordinary shark. I can hear the ominous music already.

A Discovery of Strangers by Rudy Wiebe takes the reader back to 1820 and the doomed Franklin expedition. This novel traces the love story between Tobert Hood, a member of the expedition, and "Greenstockings," the daughter of a Yellowknife elder.

LIBRARY CALENDAR

Friday, June 24: FUN, FUN, FUN - Storytime will be holding a beach party before we break for the summer. Kids are asked to wear their bathing suits and bring a towel, a change of clothes and any beach toys (beach balls, frisbees, etc.)

The Winnipeg General Strike happened 75 years ago. The strike began May 17, 1919 and lasted 6 weeks. It ended in a bloody confrontation between strikers and mounted policemen.

TEEN COMPOSER - Kelly Ozust, who will take her Grade 5 Royal Conservatory of Music examination in June, capped off a sparkling performance with a marvelously complex original composition, of which she now has three to her credit.

Piano students perform

Twenty students of piano teacher Deanna Easthope performed for a delighted audience of parents and family members last Sunday at the annual Piano Recital. For a number of the students, this was their first year with Mrs. Easthope, having previously studied with Hildegunde Naber.

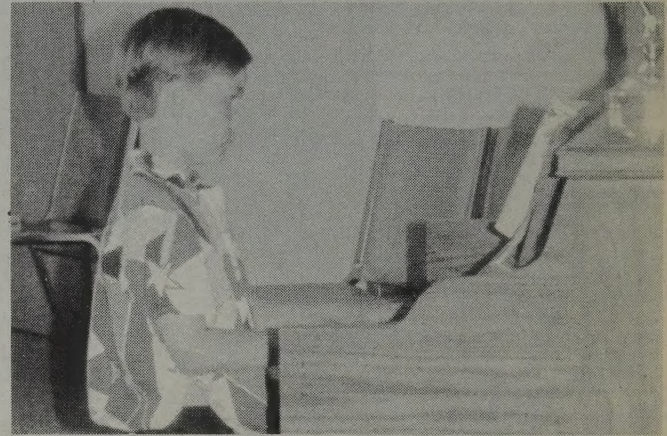

Students ranged from Matt Zarowny, who only recently started lessons after receiving a keyboard for Christmas, to Kelly Ozust and Carlen Mutch, who are studying for their Grade 5 examinations at the Royal Conservatory of Music (RCM). Most are examination students, however two, Rachel Peterson and Nadia Wentworth, have spent the year learning to play just for fun.

Three of the twenty have earned honors in recent RCM exams, Trevor Frankiw and Melanie Johnson in Grade 1 and Kevin Frankiw in Grade 3. Trevor and Melanie are moving on to the Grade 2 exams in June. Patricia Keichinger will take her Grade 3 RCM exam in June.

Participants in Sunday's recital were Matt Zarowny, Kristy Lindquist, Valerie Friesen, Michelle Friesen, Nicole Sommerville, Kyle Sommerville, Jaylene Purdy, Michelle Hutton, Trevor Frankiw, Melanie Johnson, Rachel Peterson, Monica Naber, Carson Mutch, Cristin Ozust, Patricia Keichinger, Nadia Wentworth, Kevin Frankiw, Carlen Mutch, Claudia Naber and Kelly Ozust.

OFF TO A GOOD START - Kyle Sommerville is one of the younger students in the group, but is already showing promise at the keyboard.
